3 Children Flee $17,000 Fire Here

Electric Blanket Starts Blaze On Bed Of Sleeping Child

A fire apparently starting from a short-circuited electric blanket on the bed of a sleeping child, did an estimated $17,000 damage to the home of Eugene J. Fretz, 475 Cerritos Drive, shortly after midnight yesterday.

Fretz, president of a Milwaukee confections company who arrived last Thursday for a short visit with his family, said he and Mrs. Fretz had taken their three children to dinner and a movie, left them at the house, and gone to see friends.

The faulty blanket caused smoke which woke Robyn, 11, who roused her older sister, Mary Dornier, and then went to phone police and firemen. While Robyn was phoning, Mary Dornier, 12, took the baby, Timothy, 1, from his crib, and all three went to neighbors.

Most of the flames were confined to the bedroom but other parts of the home and furnishings were damaged by smoke and heat.

President Sets Up Agency on Aging Problems

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower today directed the establishment of a Federal Council on Aging to help deal more effectively with the marked increase in the number of older Americans.

His order was contained in a memorandum to members of the Cabinet and agency heads closely involved in mapping programs for the needs of aging members of the population.

The council will not originate new federal programs or activities but review and recommend.

The President said to assure properly the use of the capabilities of older persons, the new council should emphasize improvement in preservation of physical and mental health and rehabilitation; income maintenance, employment and retirement, housing, living arrangements, and family relationships, education, civic participation and recreation.

A House Appropriations Subcommittee recently rapped the government for failing to develop an adequate program for dealing with the problems of aging population.

Averell Harriman and Truman Go Into Huddle

NEW YORK — Former President Truman, a self-styled neutral in the contest for the Democratic presidential nomination, conferred today with "inactive candidate" Averell Harriman.

Mr. Truman and New York's governor talked across the breakfast table at Harriman's town house after the two old friends had enjoyed a 10-block constitutional together.

"This is just a social visit," Mr. Truman told reporters with a twinkle in his eye. "I was invited and I never turn down a free meal."

Mr. Truman said again that he would remain "neutral" until convention time in August.

Bandits Force Man to Watch Torture of Wife

DENVER — Two men forced their way into the home of Mike Garramone last night, bound and gagged Mrs. Garramone and touched a lighted cigarette to her bare feet several times in a fruitless effort to steal the couple's savings.

Her husband, a 56-year-old truck farmer, was bound and forced to watch the thugs torture his wife, Elvira. A friend, James J. Bazzano, 43, Denver, also was bound. "There isn't any money here," Mrs. Garramone repeatedly cried out during the torture.

The men gave up the torture and ransacked the house for more than an hour without finding any money.

Convicts Caught Tunneling Out of Northwest Prison

WALLA WALLA, Wash. — Nine convicts were being questioned today after a guard discovered a 25-foot tunnel leading from the basement of a cell wing almost to the wall of the State Prison here.

One convict was found in the tunnel.

Warden Lawrence Delmore Jr. said four of the convicts being questioned were among the 10 who broke out of the penitentiary through a 60-foot tunnel last year.

The new tunnel was discovered by a guard who had found one man missing from his cell when the guard went to wake the kitchen crew at 4:30 a.m.

The missing man was in the tunnel.

The convicts had cut through a hasp on a door leading to the basement of Wing 7. They had replaced the hasp so it could not be detected without close inspection, Delmore said. To reach the door, they had cut and removed the bars from some of the cells.

Delmore estimated the men had been digging for about two weeks because his special five-man detail, assigned specifically to look for escape attempts and other trouble, had inspected the basement two weeks ago.

Dulles Advocates Others Aid Israel

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today that the shipment of arms to Israel by some Western powers other than the United States might contribute to stabilizing in the Middle East.

Dulles at the same time told a news conference that there has been no change in the U.S. policy against the sale of U.S. arms to Israel at the present time. This, despite the almost daily appeals of Israel for jet planes and other modern weapons.

Administration officials said yesterday that Mr. Eisenhower last week had decided against selling arms to Israel at this time. Dulles took no issue with this. In response to questions, he indicated the situation is right where it has been for months.

Two-Day Hearing on Service Here is Adjourned to May 3

By FRED C. WEIGEL

Commissioner Rex Hardy of the Public Utilities Commission this afternoon adjourned the telephone public hearings held here the last two days to May 3 and 4, when the three companies involved will present reports and testimony as to service.

The hearing was concluded this afternoon after two full days of taking testimony from residents of the desert area, which featured the coming of a new term, "a wire curtain" which stretches across the Coachella Valley between Rancho Mirage and Palm Desert.

The term was frequently used to refer to an alleged invisible rate barrier that hampers the businessman in his pursuit and care of business.

Individual complaints concerning telephone service in general were many, and among letters read into the testimony today was one from E. H. O'Reilly, chairman of the Coachella Valley Union, American Red Cross, who charged that the telephone service was detrimental to the pursuance of the Red Cross campaign throughout the entire area.

Companies under fire by witnesses included the California Water and Telephone Company which serves Palm Springs, Cathedral City, Rancho Mirage and Desert Hot Springs; the Coachella Home Telephone and Telegraph Company which serves Indio, Thermal, La Quinta and Palm Desert; and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company which serves both of these companies on long distance calls.

Hardy, former Palm Springs attorney and newest member of the PUC, was chairman of the hearing at the city hall.

Complaints from witnesses who began taking the stand yesterday included the virtual impossibility of getting an operator; voice fading—inability to hear; interference by the operator; cutoffs during conversation; failure on the part of the operator to terminate long distance calls, and delays in installation of equipment.

One witness, George W. Dulaney Jr., of Thunderbird and La Jolla, testified that in La Jolla he has three phones and nine jacks on a one party line and the cost is $3.93 per month, while here he has three jacks and two phones and is on a four-party line and pays $8.20. He said he has erected a mast on the roof of his home at Thunderbird with a red light on top and when the light is on, it is a signal to the private patrol that he needs assistance.

Another witness, R. T. Forbes of Cathedral City, said "the service is no better than it was 20 years ago" and said that one telephone employee told him that "it takes a celebrity to get a private line."

Mrs. Mary Ann Hudson, manager of the Firecliff Lodge in Palm Desert, who runs a 42-unit switchboard at that hotel, told the commission that she has fought a "running battle" with the Coachella Home Telephone Company. Her bill in one month has run $391 and in one month she placed 217 calls through the board, plus $50 to 60 calls that were never completed because the calling party gave up because of the delays. She added, "we can call New York easier than we can call Los Angeles."

Other testimony was presented by Orvil Zappe, manager of the Citizens Bank at Cathedral City; Mrs. Calvin K. Larson of Palm Springs, representing her husband and brother, who protested that the companies have refused to supply her with service to Thermal; Dr. Robert Morrey, M.D., of Palm Desert, who said that the present system was detrimental to his business; Loren D. Burke of Palm Desert who has been unable to get a telephone for the office of a new subdivision; Mrs. Frances R. Knox of Rancho Mirage who testified that she "had lousy service and long-distance charges on her bill that she had not made"; and Pete Pettito, manager of Blue Skies Trailer Village, who said that that company had spent $16,000 to put in underground conduit and had not been able to get telephone service.

Blames Stodgy Men for Unlovely Hair in Britain

LONDON — A hairdresser complained Monday that British women do not have beautiful hair because British men are stodgy.

"British men are too unimaginative, self-conscious and stodgy," wailed H. A. Prosser, president of the National Hairdressers Federation. "They do not want their women to change."

Storm Hits Wide Area of Dakotas

Snow, Wind, Ice Even Turn Back Repair Crews

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. — A raging snow, wind and ice storm struck wide areas of the Dakotas today and at least 42 South Dakota communities were cut off from an except short-wave radio communication.

Pierre, capital of South Dakota, was the largest of the isolated communities.

Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. reported that repair crews dispatched to the worst storm area had to turn back.

A bus en route from Rapid City to Pierre was literally blown off the road 12 miles west of Pierre, but there were no injuries or damage. The bus driver borrowed a car from a farmer and took the 12 passengers into Pierre.

DRUMRIGHT, Okla. — Seven persons were killed by tornadoes that swept through Oklahoma, Southern Kansas and Missouri last night and today.

Oklahoma had five fatalities in the city of Drumright, and Kansas had two, while scores of others were injured in the three states.

Four members of the Bill Bevel family of Drumright and an aged woman were killed when a twister struck the city of 5000 population.

Ole Leek, about 45, was killed when a tornado demolished his farm home one mile west of Toronto, Kan., and Mrs. Ethel Whitfield, about 70, was killed in her farm home south of Grenola, Kan.

The injured included 35 at Miami, Okla., where 15 remained in hospitals and others were released; seven in hospitals at Cushing, Okla., where they were taken from Drumright; eight at Davenport, Okla., two at Pond Creek, Okla., one at Hopeton, Okla., and a number at Grenola and Baxter Springs, Kan.

LITTLE PEOPLE

Your Editor likes people, best of all little people, last week a bus-load of Girl Scouts came to visit the Old Fort. They were like a flock of sheep with happy faces. I always tell them about the animals—old "Hopalong Pushidy" my desert tortoise is hibernating. I did some of the digging and he tunneled a few feet more. I have a mirror so placed that the little lambs could look into it and see the tortoise sleeping. I told them if they all would be very, very quiet and listen they might hear him snore. I wish to assure you readers that we will never run out of tall-tale-tellers in this desert for when I asked most of the little rascals said they could hear the snoring.

Two Sentenced Who Allowed Pet Cat to Eat Toes of Their Baby

HYATTSVILLE, Md. — A couple whose pet margay cat ate some of their infant's toes face 10-day jail sentences for child neglect.

A handyman who was caring for the infant also faces a 10-day sentence.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Berry of nearby Beltsville, were convicted yesterday in Hyattsville Police Court of "wilful" child neglect. Their 42-year-old handyman, Winslow Prescott, was convicted of failure to provide proper care for the child. All three noted appeals.

Police said the margay cat stole into the Perry nursery March 13 and ate the toes from a foot of three-month-old Thomas Perry. Thomas' sleeping year-old sister, Pamela, was unharmed.

Dr. William Mann, director of the Washington Zoo, testified at the trial that a margay is a small wild cat from the tropical jungles, somewhat resembling an ocelot. Mann said the viciousness of margays varies with individual beasts, but "at the zoo we keep our hands out of the cages. . . . They like to nibble at you."

Testimony brought out the cat had attacked the child once before.

Perry testified that he was in New York facing a drunk driving charge when the second attack occurred. He is a manufacturer's representative and former union official.

Prescott said he had heard no sound from either of the children during the attack. He said the first he knew of the incident was when he went into the nursery and found the cat there, with the baby lying in a pool of blood. The child is still in a hospital where his condition is described as serious.

In an informal discussion of myriad aspects of the sign ordinance, council yesterday voiced a mixture of feelings, eventually agreeing that the Variance Board should meet with Bunker and building inspector Jack Sanders to find out what variances had been granted.

The study would also include what signs were in use before adoption of the present sign ordinance, allowing ultimate elimination of all non-conforming signs.

The board will discuss allowable sign area, taking into consideration the feeling of one council member, also a hotel owner, who said the ordinance "is not worth a damn," and others who want to keep regulations as such, saying that if the ordinance is "put on the skids, we're through."

Once findings are crystallized, the recommendations will be forwarded to council for action. The board will be instructed that the basis of the ordinance defining signs as identification, not advertising, should be the determining factor on policy recommendations.

Palm Springs Playhouse Guild today expressed regret for the cancellation of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra's concert here and pledged that it will be brought back next season. A rain and wind storm Sunday forced the cancellation.

"The decision to cancel the concert was difficult in the extreme because of the widespread interest and the enthusiastic desire of the residents of the entire county for this music," Mrs. John Luccarelli, Playhouse president, said. "Because of the changing weather and the terms of the insurance coverage, the determination to cancel the production could not be made until the last minute."

Any ticket holder desiring a refund should present his tickets at the office of the Guild at 204, Oasis Building, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 1 p.m., and between 2 and 4 p.m., of any day except Saturday, as soon as possible.

The Playhouse Guild expressed its appreciation to everyone who supported the effort to bring the Philharmonic Orchestra here for the first time.

"Without indicating any want of appreciation for the many contributions of the citizens of the community," Mrs. Luccarelli said, "the Guild wishes to especially thank the following:

"Lily Pons; Frank Bennett, who coordinated all activities so successfully; Mrs. William B. Malouf and her committee whose sale of box seats insured financial success; Ray Corliss, David Margolis, Edith Carlson of the Chamber of Commerce, and Beth Scott for the wide publicity of the event; Mrs. John Q. McClure for ticket distribution."

Others mentioned included the press and radio for "their generous handling of this event; the Junior Chamber of Commerce for again showing their willingness to wholeheartedly support any civic endeavor; every city employee who had the opportunity to be of assistance, including the untiring efforts of Howard Haddock, manager of the Polo Grounds."

Two Owners in Parking Lot District Protest

Two of the 20 members, comprising about 30 per cent of an off-street parking assessment district, have written letters of protest regarding the city's condemnation suit against A. M. Leibling's parcel between Palm Canyon Drive and Indian Avenue north of Tahquitz Road, city council was told yesterday.

A third member has indicated hesitancy, bringing the total protest to more than half, by valuation.

Since negotiations have failed between the city and Leibling, the city, acting as agent for the assessment district, has proceeded to ward condemnation action. The land was estimated to be worth $100,000 at last appraisal, but another appraisal has been ordered by the city in an effort to keep up to date.

The suit, originally scheduled for April 30 in Indio's Superior Court, will probably not be heard before June or July, assuming Leibling's attorney, Jerome Richardson, is granted an extension.

The letters were written by Gerald Lipsky, of the Desert Inn, who would pay about 24 per cent of the court award, and Leibling, who would pay about five per cent. The indicated protest came from owners of the Plaza, which would bring the total to about 51 per cent.

The Desert Inn said it has ample parking in its projected plans, and is reluctant to pay for more. Lipsky said the plans call for about 800 spaces around the main development area.

Story of Kiss Kills Driving Charge

WILMINGTON, N.C. — Dixie Lee Shepard, 20, charged with reckless driving after her car hit a utility pole and crashed into a sign, told police a young Marine "was trying to kiss me."

The Marine, Richard Patrick Payment, 22, of Camp Lejeune, was charged with being drunk and disorderly.

Council Sets April 17 to Hear Sign Law Appeal

A letter from City Attorney Jerry Bunker to Willard McKinney, operator of McKinney's Market on South Palm Canyon Drive when a non-conforming sign was erected, has been sent informing McKinney that council will discuss his appeal of the Variance Board's negative decision April 17th at its regular meeting. The final decision may avail results of a study from the Variance Board.

In an informal discussion of myriad aspects of the sign ordinance, council yesterday voiced a mixture of feelings, eventually agreeing that the Variance Board should meet with Bunker and building inspector Jack Sanders to find out what variances had been granted.

The study would also include what signs were in use before adoption of the present sign ordinance, allowing ultimate elimination of all non-conforming signs.

The board will discuss allowable sign area, taking into consideration the feeling of one council member, also a hotel owner, who said the ordinance "is not worth a damn," and others who want to keep regulations as such, saying that if the ordinance is "put on the skids, we're through."

L.A. Bomb Hoax Delays Airliner

LOS ANGELES — A TWA airliner scheduled to leave for New York City was searched last night for an explosive after a mysterious woman caller told officials several hundred miles away that "a bomb is on Flight 46."

The phone call was received by Southwest Airways in San Francisco. The woman hung up after she blurted out the warning. Airport authorities notified TWA here as it had the only scheduled Flight 46.

Search of the plane failed to produce an explosive and the airliner was allowed to leave for New York on schedule. TWA officials here said the call apparently was made by a prankster.

ACCORDING to the monthly summary of business conditions published by the Research Department of the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles, building activity in Southern California set new all-time records during 1955. The dollar volume of all building permits issued in the 14 county area totaled $2,143,107,000. This represented an increase of 18.6 percent over 1954, the previous record year. Palm Springs building permits for 1955 are about doubling 1954 so far, so it shows a tremendous development as compared with the average.

Red Cross Fund Exceeds $13,000 During Weekend

Red Cross fund drive passed the $13,000 mark over the weekend, with the "mop-up" part of the campaign scheduled this week, according to Mrs. Burnham Bigelow, general chairman.

Quota as set at the start of this month-long drive is $17,400.

Of great assistance in passing the $13,000 mark were the contributions by residents and visitors made through the street booths operated under the chairmanship of Mrs. Oscar Stern, the chairman said.

The Red Cross performed a public service mission last Saturday, in assisting the two Navy personnel whose plane was wrecked while landing at Palm Springs airport. Transportation back to their San Diego base was provided, as well as telephone messages there reporting the incident.

Mrs. Lauritz Hansen, home service chairman, was in charge of the arrangements.

Japan's Last Big War Felon Free

TOKYO (AP) — The last major war criminal of the 24 convicted with ex-Premier Hideki Tojo by an Allied military tribunal eight years ago has left prison.

Kenryo Sato, former lieutenant general and wartime chief of the war ministry's military affairs bureau, was freed on parole from Tokyo's Sugamo Prison. He served 10 years of a life sentence.

With Sato's release no more Japanese class "A" war criminals remained in jail. But there still are 383 class "B" and "C" war criminals in Sugamo.

Coachella Valley Savings-Loan Observes National Anniversary

Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association, together with 6,000 similar institutions throughout the United States, this month is celebrating the 125th anniversary of the Savings and Loan business.

Mayor Florian G. Boyd has officially designated April as "Savings and Loan Month" in the City of Palm Springs, and in so doing, urged "all citizens to consider the vital role played by these specialized thrift and home financing institutions in encouraging good savings practices and private home ownership among our people, and thereby contributing to the overall economic and moral fiber of our community, state and nation."

Congratulating the local organization which has offices here and in Indio, Boyd pointed out that it is "playing a key role" in the development of the two communities.

W. H. SMITH, CVSLA president, in announcing the anniversary, said that the first loan a century and a quarter ago was made on April 11 by the Oxford Provident Building Association in Frankford, Pennsylvania, a small town on the outskirts of Philadelphia. Recipient was Comly Rich, a lamp lighter, and the loan was for $350 to purchase a house which still stands on Orches Street, and which is now a historical land mark.

Since that day, Smith said, the Savings and Loan business has "grown to proportions far exceeding the most optimistic expectations of those engaged in the business, and with over 6,000 associations and more than $40 billion in assets, we are now one of the leading industries of the nation."

"Here in Palm Springs, Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association is merely an infant in years beside this giant, but in size we are proud of our record of growth. Although only six and one-half years old, our assets are now over eight and one-half million."

TO HELP commemorate the occasion, Smith brought together the first savings customer, Mrs. Grace Morgan of Newport Beach; the most recent depositor, No. 3416, Thelma Saxton of Palm Springs; the first loan recipient, Fred Loveless, Indio contractor and builder, and the person who last received a loan, No. 1,089, William Darwin, Palm Springs builder.

Statements regarding CVSLA service was made by each person: Mrs. Morgan—"May I say that my association with CVSLA has been most enjoyable. I appreciate the friendly service they have rendered and the liberal interest rate of 3 1/2 percent which they pay. Even though I am no longer a resident of Palm Springs, yet I continue to use the save-by-mail service offered for our convenience."

Mrs. Saxton—"I am very happy to think that I am a part of such a fine institution. I hope that I can continue for as long a time as Mrs. Morgan, and I am confident that I am going to be as well pleased with my savings investment."

LOVELESS—"I can say that I have always received the best of service from Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association. I have appreciated the fact that your institution was the pioneer in this area of a long term, low interest rate loan, which among other things, has all of the privileges for pre-payment without penalty, both as to the full amount of the unpaid balance or partial payments as desired by the customer. I am happy to be one of your number."

Darwin—"I for one am very happy that CVSLA helped me out at a time when things were rather rough for me. They have enabled me to get on my feet and to build houses and sell them as fast as anyone in Palm Springs. I can truthfully say your entire organization rates tops. The Loan department, the Escrow department, which has always handled my business in an efficient manner, and, although I have only recently opened a savings account, yet I am an ardent booster for all of the departments at CVSLA."

The CVSLA is currently constructing new and larger quarters on South Palm Canyon Drive, and Smith expressed the hope that the association will be located there by September 1, or prior to the celebration of its seventh anniversary.

India-Yugoslavia Trade Increased

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India and Yugoslavia today signed an agreement calling for a "much higher level" of trade between the two countries.

The new trade pact also calls for closer scientific and technical cooperation between the two nations, authorities said.

It envisages the sharing of technical skills, the exchange of technical missions and the supply of equipment and machinery.

Campaign Goes Cross-Country

Campaigning cross country was a sideline of the trip of Mr. and Mrs. Culver Nichols this week, as they went to Catonsville, Maryland, to attend the wedding of their son, Prescott.

In Washington, D.C., they visited Congressman John Phillips and brought him up-to-date on the current Congressional campaign. In Annapolis they stopped to visit Tommy Luke, who is a Midshipman second class at the Academy, and Mr. Nichols solicited his support by absentee ballot in the current councilmanic campaign.

Prior to the wedding, the same procedure was followed with the Nichols' son.

Air Pollution Again Blocked by 2 Supervisors

RIVERSIDE—Once again Supervisor Paul Anderson attempted to activate the county air pollution control district, but again he was blocked by adamant Supervisors Roman Warren and Fred McCall who voted against the motion he made to put $4,000 in the air pollution control treasury. It takes four affirmative votes to transfer money from the county's unappropriated reserve fund from which the $4,000 would have to come.

"I'm willing to take $40 from the unappropriated reserve fund for air pollution control, but not $4,000," declared Supervisor Fred McCall.

SUPERVISOR WARREN did not comment, but his "no" vote was effective.

McCall suggested that the county use the "rules and regulations adopted by Los Angeles" and put air pollution control, if said rules and regulations were approved by the board of supervisors, in the hands of the health department. He said that way the cost would be only $30 or $40.

Anderson, as well as Supervisors George Berkeley and William Jones who supported his attempt to get funds in the air pollution control district coffers, scoffed at the idea that the health department, or any other department, could enforce regulations for the balance of the fiscal year, to June 30, for $40.

"I'M CERTAINLY in favor of not spending several thousand dollars for something that we could do for $30 or $40," insisted McCall.

Oren King, Riverside city manager, told the supervisors that the Riverside city council is greatly concerned regarding any future development that might contaminate the Riverside area, and is opposed to the proposed location of an asphalt plant near Ramona Freeway and the Santa Ana River which is to come before the board next week.

SHOVELFUL OF WATER and fire damage residue is hurled out the heat-shattered window at 475 Cerritos Drive by fireman Bartlett Bolander, left, as fireman Ed Parks comes up with another load. They were from station No. 1. An electric blanket in the bedroom of the home owned by E. J. Fretz apparently started the blaze. About $17,000 damage was estimated by Captain Chad Goff.

Three Lumber Dealers Here to Attend Meet

Three Palm Springs lumber dealers today were reported planning to take active parts in the 39th annual convention of the Southern California Retail Lumber Association, April 17 to 19, in the Los Angeles Ambassador hotel.

Association heads said the Palm Springs group is expected to include: John Dill, manager, Dill Lumber Co., 691 Industrial Place; Milton Hicks, president, and George Derbes, general manager and secretary, Palm Springs Builders Supply Co., Inc., 490 Sunny Dunes Road.

Orrie W. Hamilton, executive vice president of the Association, said building material dealers will hear talks on the California wood supply of the future, methods to cut the tax load and reduction of building costs. The responsibility of business men as citizens, trends in material handling and many other topics are programmed.

Postal Receipts Show Increases

Postal receipts showed about a seven percent increase during the first quarter of 1956 compared to the first three months of last year, $82,895 to $77,524, Postmaster Merritt Williams reported.

Receipts during March showed only an increase of about $1,000, $29,979 to $28,923. Largest increase so far this year was shown during the month of February, $2,948.90.

A common practice in measuring the water equivalent of snow is to assume that the density of new-fallen snow is 10 per cent. Ten inches of snow equals one inch of water. But Weather Bureau officials say density varies and depth cannot always determine water content.

Israel Consul to be Speaker at Forum April 4

Raanan Sivan, a sixth generation Israeli who was born in Jerusalem in 1921 and who is now serving his country as Consul for the 11 Western states, will discuss the "Middle East Crisis" in a Community Forum program at the Jewish Community Center at 8:15 p.m., Wednesday.

This will be the last of a series of lectures presented by the forum. Sivan who was educated in Palestine and England, and served with the British Army during World War II, fighting on five fronts and being wounded in action.

He has served in the government of his country since he was 24 years of age, and prior to his present appointment was director of the Division for Municipalities and Local Councils in the Ministry of Interior.

Sivan has lectured on several occasions at the Institute of Public Administration in Israel on questions of local and central government.

He is founder-member of a B'nai Brith Lodge in Jerusalem, and is a past president of the Jerusalem Rotary Club.

It's Naughty to Ride a Bike Drunk, Too

JASPER, Ind. (AP) — A judge sent Franklin Studeville, 43, to jail yesterday on his second conviction in one week on a drunken driving charge.

The judge had granted Studeville six months' probation the first time, for driving a car while drunk, but ordered him to serve six months in jail when he showed up again, charged with riding a bicycle while drunk.

PALM SPRINGS, noted for its minks and Cads, now has a $25,000 pearl-trimmed swim suit. Modeled by Ricki Metz at Palm Springs Howard Manor, it was shown in connection with a Pageant of Pearls being presented by former movie star Andrea Leeds Howard. The suit is decorated with various sized and shaped pearls, which outline the straps and bustline and continue in a cascade down one side of the suit. Andrea, whose husband is Sportsman Bob Howard, personally designed and beaded the suit. (Gayle Studio Photo.)

The Best Is Yet To Come

After one of the most delightful Winters in a decade—and an early hot spell that made many of us believe that Summer was on its way—a coastal storm pushed its way over the San Jacinto mountains last Sunday and drove Easter vacationists from patios and pools to heated hotels and homes. Maybe we have been having it too good. Perhaps the weather has been too perfect. From Western Week back in October to the Police Show a week ago almost every important event of the 1955-56 season has been blessed with good weather.

It was most unfortunate that this final fling of Winter visited Palm Springs when so many vacationists were here—and on the night that had been selected for the concert of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra. It was little consolation that hail pounded Los Angeles and bad weather prevailed along the coast. By way of contrast we weren't so bad off—but by reputation the weather in Palm Springs is always supposed to be perfect. We make plans accordingly.

We're sorry about Easter Sunday but glad that we can look forward to the two most delightful months of the year—April and May. And lots of people are finding that June is real nice also. These are the months when there is so much overcast along the coast and Palm Springs is most dependable for sunny days and balmy nights. More and more Winter residents are staying through June and finding it delightful.

With the help of refrigerated cooling—with which so many homes, stores and offices are now equipped—life in Palm Springs in the Summer is a lot more enjoyable than a lot of other places in the country we can think of. With so much building activity going on and a lot more hotels open the Village has a very active Summer in prospect.

Yes, we're sorry about last Sunday—but remember, the best is yet to come!

Let's Keep Palm Springs Attractive

It is hard for a lot of people to realize how much beautification means to a high class resort like Palm Springs. The charm which this community has retained through its rapid rate of growth in the past several years is one of its greatest assets. Its difference in appearance from cities—and most other small communities—is part of its stock in trade. Vacationists come here to relax and enjoy living. Surroundings that are conducive to a carefree frame of mind are important.

The attractiveness of Palm Springs today is due to the foresight of those who lived here 10 and 15 years ago. They saw the importance of retaining the charm of the Village as it grew. They had seen what happened to many other resort areas that were spoiled by unattractive development.

Many wise restrictions have been adopted by the City Government during the past decade with an eye to retaining the beauty of this resort community and keeping it from looking like any other town in the country. The sign ordinance now in controversy is a typical example. Had not some control been placed on signs our business streets would have been an unsightly mess. By restricting their size and location the real charm of the Village has been preserved. It is fair since its provisions apply to all—and it saves business establishments of the expense of trying to keep up a sign that is larger than his competitor's.

It is difficult to place restrictions on business establishments which serve the community well and feel it necessary to do all they can to attract trade. On the other hand it would be very easy to kill the goose that laid the golden egg by letting down the bars. It is highly important to every store, hotel, property owner and home owner that the charm and beauty of Palm Springs be preserved as it grows. This fact must never be overlooked.

Shifting Political Issues (Redlands Daily Facts)

Sometimes in an election year the issues are ready made and the opposition party has a field day. In other situations the combatants have to scratch for really good campaign material.

A party out of office now and then finds its task complicated by differences between what its presidential candidates may be urging on the hustings and what its elected representatives may be doing.

This can have the effect of cutting at least part of the ground from under a party which is trying to strike an aggressive campaign posture.

This year the Democrats have been handed one easy issue—President Eisenhower's health. The President's own frankness on this question thrust it prominently into the campaign.

In other areas, however, the going has been more difficult.

The Democrats believe that their prime issue, aside from Mr. Eisenhower's health is the steady, marked decline in farmers' income from crops and livestock.

There is no doubt that this decline is, and ought to be, a matter of high concern to anyone bent upon safeguarding the economic health and welfare of this nation.

But merely stating this does not mean that voters generally will act next November with this problem high in their consciousness.

Evidence suggests they will do so in farm states where the impact of the income drop is heavy.

The outlook elsewhere is inconclusive. Furthermore, those candidates who have been urging a return to high rigid farm price supports have had their work made tougher by the recent Senate vote on the issue. With Democrats in control of the upper house, it voted 54 to 41 to block restoration of high supports.

Despite the advertised position of Adlai Stevenson, Senator Kefauver and others, 13 Democrats voted with the majority against high supports. Presidential prospects taking the opposite position may find farmers somewhat more skeptical than before when it comes to these candidates' chances of delivering on their promises.

Some Democrats, too, want to make much of what they consider the Eisenhower administration's overgenerosity with the country's natural resources. Especially in the richly endowed West, candidates planned to hit this hard.

Once again, the matter has been clouded by the recently vetoed bill to free natural gas producers from federal regulation.

On this measure, the Senate Democratic leadership pressed for removal of U.S. control, and 22 Democrats—a shade less than half those voting—backed the leaders.

This does not mean these issues may not somehow be resharpened between now and November, or that new and perhaps far more powerful issues may not develop.

But it does suggest, as the Republicans long ago discovered in their long ordeal on the outside, that life for a politician fighting for the nation's highest stakes can be enormously troublesome.

"This is Getting Real Confusing"

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

Oh, April is a lovely month
With mostly element climate.
It has one flaw to mar its grace.
It launches Daylight Time.

Always looking for something to worry about. But at 2 a.m. on Sunday, April 23, we all move our clocks up an hour so we can save sun during the Summer when we have the most of it.

It's about time to go into training for PDT (Pretty Dam Tiresome) by getting up five minutes earlier each morning. By the end of the month I'll be accustomed to it.

MARCH PULLED a fast one on me. Just after I clobbered this old Woodstock keyboard with the statement that March came in like a lamb and was going out the same way—she blew!

First time I can recall that the weather forced cancellation of a Spring training game at the Polo Grounds. Coupled with speeding boys and girls out of town, the police had a busy day.

COMMUNICATIONS yesterday included one from Mrs. Dorothy Winkler who said, regarding my comment last week that we need bicycle paths here as well as equestrian trails:

"Before they widened Indian Avenue, I suggested that thoroughfare for the cyclists. It's too late now. But how about Belardo road—when and if they extend it?"

And Mrs. Helen Morris of the PS Drug, has a gripe:

"People, especially parents, complain about what goes on in our schools. But, like the weather, all they do is talk about it. Out of 750 potential members of a local parent-teacher group, there are only 250 interested parents listed."

THE YOUNGER GENERATION is smart. One youngster perpetrated an April Fool joke on a pal yesterday, April 2, and the latter let loose with that old chant of childhood:

"April Fool is past and you're the biggest fool at last."

The other was unperturbed.

"Aw, no it ain't. I heard my dad tell me last week that he had another day on his income tax because the 15th fell on Sunday and so the deadline is on the 18th. So, since April 1 fell on Sunday, we can work jokes on Monday. You're the biggest fool."

And the fight was on.

GOOD NEWS overheard this week is that Indian Avenue, from the present terminus of the four lane highway, is going to be widened as far as Vista Chino. As stated here last week, North Indian Avenue is an important thoroughfare with all those hotels and apartments in that vicinity.

In The Daily Report of Ontario, my old home grounds, I noted a large headline Saturday:

"Upland Police Warn Housewives to be Careful of Unfamiliar Salesmen."

I always thought the danger lie in the ones who got familiar.

Says Vesta N. Kelly: "Nowadays every young couple wants to start out with the bare necessities—but a small apartment, won't hold them."

Religion and Medical Practice

Doctors now have a new ally in the sick room. These are clergymen who are taking clinical internships at hospitals and institutions. This is under the sponsorship of the Council for Clinical Training, an inter-denominational Protestant organization with national offices in New York City.

The training includes an on-the-spot survey of anatomy and pathology. Through observation by lectures and written reports of the clergymen concerning patients whom they have visited, and by sitting in on medical conferences which deal with the patient's ailments, the clergymen become conversant with heart and blood vessel diseases, stomach and bowel, respiratory tract, nervous and kidney and bladder conditions.

Obstetrics and gynecology and psychosomatic medicine are also studied. For a three-month training period the clergymen live with residents and interns so as to develop a more positive feeling about hospitals and the care of the sick. The clergy in turn learn how to cooperate with the doctors, that they contribute pastoral care for the sick.

THE BEDSIDE MANNER of a doctor, which has long been a matter of humorous discussions, is an important consideration in the management of the sick and their successful care. The appearance of the doctor in the sick room develops a psychological atmosphere establishing a quietude, and dispelling many of the fears attendant on illness or the being in a hospital.

The clergy have a similar place in the minds and reactions of people particularly when they are perturbed, and the taking over by the clergy of some of the mental aberrations that may coincide with serious illness and hospitalization aids in relieving the doctor who can give his attentions to the scientific phases of his work.

With clinical understanding of the doctor's problems, the clergyman is equipped to know

Wonder if some of us are going to miss those kids—girls and boys, who flooded our fair city with a riptide of youthful exuberance during the Easter school vacations which ended Sunday night?

A careful study of the picture and the tumult of the hordes of high school and college boys and girls created indicates that on the whole they were orderly. A small minority of them did get into trouble with Chief August Kettmann's police force and some of them were sent packing homeward.

The police department was flooded with complaints about noise, swimming pool parties that continued on into the wee hours of the morning and traffic was brought to an almost standstill with more citations issued by our policemen than in many a pale moon.

"Actually," said Chief Kettmann, "in this city where the average age of our Winter guests is around 50, the noise created by youthful exuberance caused some mental and nerve wracking situations. But on the whole the trouble makers were in small minority."

Thanks to the manner in which our police department handled the situation, nothing serious on a widespread scale occurred. Do we want them back again? Remember folks, before you answer that question say unto yourself: "I was young too once upon a time." I believe we do want them back. They gave the town a gay and cheerful atmosphere.

RONALD W. WAGONER, chief news manager for United Press on the Pacific Coast who spent several days in our fair city, really believes that The Desert Sun on a daily basis has filled a long needed vacuum in Palm Springs.

"I know that people I have talked to during my vacation in your Palm Springs now depend on The Desert Sun for the latest news about your city and what is going on nationally. In some cases I found that persons who formerly subscribed to a Los Angeles newspaper are now avid readers of your newspaper. Really, Bill, The Desert Sun is the only medium by which your residents can keep abreast of both Palm Springs and national news." Thanks, Ronald Wagner. We like to hear them words, especially when they are authored by a newspaperman.

DIVINE PROVIDENCE often comes to the rescue of good causes threatened with abject failure. A case in point is the current drive of the Palm Springs Community Chest which is now rapidly drawing to a close. Of the thousands who live in our fair city—just imagine this—only 1185 contributions have been made. And if it had not been for our Winter residents even the minimum goal in dollars would never have been reached. We did reach that level, however, thanks to Norman Water, George Braley and others of Desert Braemar. The model apartments on the corner of Tahquitz Drive and Palm Canyon Drive accounted for $4,700, all of which was contributed to the Chest's coffers. A charge of 50 cents was made for admittance into the models with workers of the Palm Springs Community Chest manning the booth day in and day out.

"It was wonderful on the part of Desert Braemar to offer this great financial assistance to the Palm Springs Community Chest. The money which accrued from admissions to view the models will insure the continued operation of the local agencies dependent on the Chest for support," declared Frank Bennett, campaign chairman. "We who have worked for the Chest find words inadequate to express ourselves in thankfulness to the officers and members of Desert Braemar."

As it is though, the Community Chest is still about six thousand dollars short of its goal and it is hoped that the many who have not given will forego the cost of one tiny luxury and donate the cost to the Chest. You'll be able to face yourself with a clearer conscience in the morning, believe me!

ALL SEEMS to be serene on the political surface in our city with councilman elections only one week away. But I have heard rumblings from beneath this serene surface and its seething with strenuous effort on the part of all candidates except in the case of Mrs. Ruth Hardy who is running unopposed.

Definition of an awful nightmare could be something like this: Hubby fast asleep and dreaming that his wife and Marilyn Monroe are fighting over his affections. And the wife is winning!

EARL WILSON:

Ex-Drunkards Now Stars

NEW YORK—There are two comedians working now in a swanky New York saloon who've been drunkards—now who've "hit bottom"—and are now coffee-sippers in Alcoholics Anonymous.

"I've been sober . . . let's see, 7 years in September," Gene Wesson said the other night at the Ruban Bleu.

"My last binge," mentioned his partner, Gordon Polk, "was five years ago in Las Vegas. I knocked on a door—any door—to ask if they'd commit me to an institution or send me to a monastery."

SINCE LILLIAN Roth, these stories are no longer shocking . . . but from time to time I'm going to tell some for an eventual book to be called "The Battle of the Bottle," hoping that maybe some people will be helped.

Back to Wesson and Polk: "My last big foulup," recalled Wesson, a Bostonian, "was in '49 at the Riviera here. I wound up on Skid Row in Galveston."

I was in a psycho ward, came out, got drunk again. They put me on a plane for New York. I met an A.A. Paul Gerrits. Never had a drink since!" Polk, who's from Spokane, said: "We since have figured out that once when I got fired for being drunk, it was he, then on the dry, who took my job."

"It was in Las Vegas," Wesson remembered. "He was too drunk even to talk to. He was a monster."

"I was a lot of fun, though, you understand," Polk said.

They eventually teamed up at the 6300 Club in Los Angeles—an A.A. clubhouse that serves only coffee—and did their first show at Women's Prison in Long Beach where Wesson was so nervous he addressed the female inmates as "Ladies and gentlemen."

When they laughed, he came back with, "Well, you never can tell nowadays." They've done well since. Both are married; Polk says, "We're glad to be living for the first time."

"We adhere to the rule that for us one drink is too many but 1,000 drinks are not enough." "But working in a polite saloon, how do you manage?" I asked.

"It's easy," Polk said, and Wesson agreed, "for when there are drinks at somebody's table, I don't even see them any more."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . Blondophile Tommy Manville, who used to marry actresses instantly, visited Jayne Mansfield backstage at "Rock Hunter." Jayne said later: "He just came in, proposed and left." . . . Marilyn Monroe flies to London July 11 . . . Hal March just bought a Cadillac like those he gives away . . . "How's your voice?" Tallulah was asked at a "Follies" rehearsal. "Darling," she replied, "my voice is no better than it ever was."

DHS Athletic Benefit Dance to be Held at Addington's April 14

DESERT HOT SPRINGS—Plans for the annual dance sponsored by the Desert Hot Springs Athletic Association, to be held at Addington's on Saturday, April 14, were discussed by the association directors at the home of the president, Abe H. Santore.

Proceeds of the dance will go into the association's general fund, to meet expenses of the coming softball season.

THE DIRECTORS heard a report from Santore that this season, in addition to Pitcher Bill Tichenor—who leads Southern California softball moundsmen in strikeouts—the DHS Fireballs will have the services of another good pitcher.

Neil Green, an ex-Marine, is coming to DHS from Texas especially to share Tichenor's pitching chores.

Santore estimated that the association will need about $1,425 for the expenses of the upcoming season.

HE EXPLAINED that these include the addition of fixtures at the park, which, he pointed out, will constitute a community asset. Santore broke down the probable expenses as follows:

Construction of two dugouts, $200; construction of a bleacher, $200; uniforms, $250; equipment, $75; insurance on players and spectators, $200; traveling expenses, $500.

Fair Expense Claims Held Up

INDIO—Approval of two claims was withheld by the supervisors both charges for county fair expenses, pending further explanations.

M. K. Luther of Los Angeles, one of the fair judges, presented a claim for $13.50, including $8 for hotel, and $5.50 for dinner. He attached a receipt for $8 from the Darley Motel in Thermal, but no receipt for his dinner.

Jay H. Bouton of Arlington, official veterinarian during the fair, an annual February event in Indio, presented claim of $158.10 for February 15 through 23.

Bon Voyage Party is All Western

A "bon voyage" party, in authentic Western fiesta style, was enjoyed by more than 35 guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Rose.

Honored guest of the evening was Mrs. Polly Booth who left yesterday for an extended tour of Europe. Also sharing in the honors was Mrs. William Perlberg, who is also on the brink of leaving for the continent with her husband and motion picture director, just as soon as he can unshackle himself from duties in Hollywood.

Highlight of the evening was the chuckwagon dinner served on the patio by Johnny Boyer, and the Western hoe-down band which furnished the music for dancing around the swimming pool. Spontaneous song groups gathered the musicians between dances to sing oldies and Western tunes.

The attire of the evening was Western and among those present were Anita Haskell Jones, Judy Calhoun Callen, Mrs. Henry Bussey, Thav and Willie Rogers (he acted as MC and called the square dancing), Mr. and Mrs. Milton Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Finn and Bob and Mike Dietrich.

Others were Messrs. and Mesdames Cecil Daniel, Joseph Grabner, Bob Tarr, Denny Bernard, Henry Hertz, Charles Mendelson, Mrs. Lee Ashman, Bob Simons and others.

Hats in the Easter Parade Were Beautiful and Zany

"In your Easter bonnet, with all the frills upon it" was the theme song for the Easter hat parade brunch at El Mirador on Sunday. El Mirador room was a gala scene with pastel balloons overhead reflecting the colors of the dozens of decorated hats in the brunch throng.

Any other time, a hat in Palm Springs means a tourist, but not on Easter, and a large percentage of the crowd had on hats. There were fantastically beautiful hats, laden with flowers and ribbons, and there were eye-catching arrangements of balloons, baskets, pie tins, Easter eggs, chickens.

Mrs. Ed Robbin, of Reno and Palm Springs, won first prize for the most beautiful hat, which was adorned with pastel flowers. Stella Taylor of Los Angeles, won the prize for the most original; Mrs. John McClure, with a "Mr. and Mrs. Easter Rabbit" won the prize for the theme hat; and Mrs. William B. Malouf for the zaniest. This last was cartwheel size and topped with a life-size monkey. Ernie Young's was topped with an El Mirador tower.

Among other unusual hats was the big pink hat, trimmed in ostrich feathers, worn by Mrs. Howard Morris, Betty Bannerman's elaborate Easter egg concoction, and Marge St. Cyr's "Easter on the Desert." Gretchen Clarke's hat was trimmed with an orchestra of chicks, half out of their shells, being conducted by an Easter rabbit. Addie Holbrook, from Juneau, Alaska, was wearing a Victrola record, topped with a music box and roses. Lee Ashman's hat was decorated with real flowers, yellow roses and a big orchid. Mrs. Charles Mendelsohn and her French poodle were dressed similarly in peasant clothes with straw hats. Mrs. Charles Carr's hat was a towering masterpiece. Georgia Bullock Dunbar and her eight-year-old daughter Sandal won honorable mention, as did Mrs. "Gloom" Mills, wife of the commanding officer at Miramar Naval Air Station. Eunice O'Neill's "Arden Shores" hat was one of the best theme hats. There were simply dozens of others worthy of more than a passing glance, and more than once the judges left the final decision up to the audience.

Judges were Rudy Vallee, J. Carroll Nash, E. Roy Fitzgerald, William Reichel, Marjorie Pohl and Hildy Crawford.

The Easter hat parade has been a Palm Springs tradition for years and was staged at El Mirador this year by Joan McManus. The popular event was sold out weeks in advance and the hotel was crowded for the festive event.

Manager Frank Bogert acted as master of ceremonies, presenting cowboy singer Tex Kidwell who has helped make these Sunday brunches so successful. A special Easter Sunday feature was a delightful puppeteer, with a singing opera star, and dancing French poodles.

The usual Sunday buffet table, set up in the Starlight Patio, to make extra room in the main dining room, boasted a big Easter rabbit, carved out of ice.

A Woman's Weight Gets Little Assist from Clothes

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY United Press Correspondent

NEW YORK—A week in Manhattan:

Modern American women are the lightest females in history. A survey just released shows that we carry around as little as three pounds of clothes, including shoes and handbags, in warm weather, while the Elizabethan women often dressed up in 55 pounds of party clothes.

The standard army summer uniform for a woman including a raincoat, overshoes and handbag weighs only 6 pounds, 13 ounces. Even the ladies of the harems in ancient Egypt walked through Pharaoh's palaces wearing more than that, the survey reports. Their tunics looked filmy, but they disguised metal girdles and jeweled ornaments that brought the average outfit to a 10-pound total.

The survey started when the H. W. Gossard Co. began weighing foundation garments from various periods. The facts got so fascinating they started piling all parts of museum wardrobes on scales and estimating others.

An iron corset, newly-forged, weighed 10 pounds in the days of Shakespeare. The Victorian woman went in for one-pound girdles made of linen or cotton reinforced with whalebone, but with voluminous wool skirts, petticoats and high-topped shoes, they often added 37 pounds in clothing.

Now a woman's girdle and brassiere together weighs as little as four and one-half ounces. The pounds you register on the drug store scales are largely your own.

Prevent lemons from withering by storing in a tightly covered jar filled with cold water.

Honors Guests at Luncheon Party

Miss Helen Feeney of Detroit, and Mrs. Frances Hummell of Berkeley and Detroit, were honored at luncheon and canasta party given by Mrs. Howard Matthews at the Tennis club Thursday. Also present were Mesdames Bow Herbert, Frank Sorenson, Fos Simonson, Robert Davis, Al Aggazoni, Duane Beckwith, Charles Goldfas and Miss Hazel Peck and Mrs. Nora Simpson.

The Eastern visitors, guests at the Matthews' home since Wednesday, were entertained by their hosts with dinners at the Ranch Club on Friday, the Steak Ranch on Saturday, and the Tennis Club for the Easter Sunday brunch.

Miss Feeney, Mrs. Hummell and Mrs. Howard Matthews went to

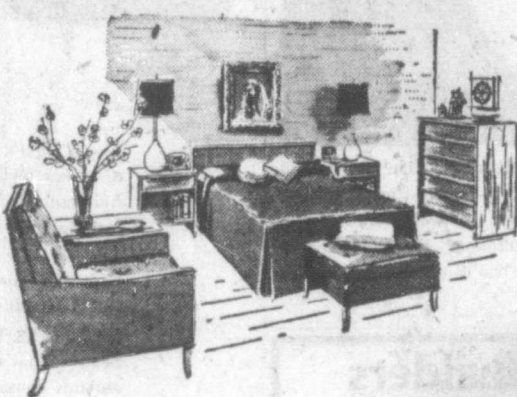

Los Angeles today for a cocktail party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Elford Humphries.

Tomorrow evening there will be a reunion of old friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Matthews in Los Angeles and will include Mr. and Mrs. William Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Matthews, Miss Feeney and Mrs. Hummell.

Miss Feeney will fly East on Thursday while Mrs. Hummell will fly to Berkeley to resume her post graduate work at the University of California.

An unwrapped bar of soap left in a stored suitcase will keep it fresh and odorless.

We two are waiting to get on the Stauffer Home Unit, Dad

Dad also agrees that the STAUFFER HOME PLAN of passive exercise and caloric reduction is making him inches slimmer and we patiently wait our turn while he relaxes on the Stauffer Unit to trim down that middle-age spread. The entire family can use the STAUFFER HOME PLAN to help keep excess weight under control and take those hard-to-lose inches off waistline, rummy, hips, thighs and legs that add accusing years to your appearance. Enjoy this relaxing comfortable way to acquire a more slender figure.

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford

One of the biggest parties of the season was the one Saturday night given by Ruby and Ed Fallgren . . . with over 200 guests . . . There was no parking place for blocks and late arrivals practically walked to the party . . . The affair honored the Fallgrens' houseguests Jacqueline and Virge Miller of Los Angeles, who leave soon for a flight to Europe . . . and about half of the guests were Angelenos . . . many of whom came down expressly for the party . . . There was dancing on the terrace to the music of a four-piece orchestra . . . and tables were set up around the pool . . . The pink tablecloths matched the blossoming pink petunias that filled the big stone flowerpots in the garden . . . An elaborate buffet was followed by cake and coffee . . .

Giant Easter rabbits decorated the dessert table . . . where there was a "bon voyage" cake, with a globe and a plane on it for the traveling Millers . . . and a bride and groom decorated the cake inscribed "Hildy and Bill" for the Crawford's anniversary . . .

With the Wally Brunmarks were their daughter and son-in-law, Barbara and Jack Harriman . . . and the Jaynes' daughter Janet was with Frankie and Oliver . . . With Vicki and Billy Malouf were their houseguests the Oliver Rouseaus of San Francisco and their daughter Rosemary Rosecranz . . .

With Helen and Walter Braunschweiger were their houseguests Senor and Senora Clemente Serna Martinez and Senor and Senora Arturo Bueno Urquidí of Mexico . . .

Among others were Mrs. Owen Churchill, who was here for Easter . . . Bertine Treat and Bill Sabranski . . . the Tom Flemings, Bill Bannermans, Joe Froggatts, Jack and Bob Kenastons, John McClures, Harold McAlisters, Franklyn MacCarthys, Dold Ob-berfelds . . . the James Kempers, Maynard Laswells, Dan Dunlaps, Frank Berings, Bill Reichels, Al Hunts . . . Ed Rothbarts, James Hammonds, Fred Karlens, Fred Albertsons . . . Ed Robbins, John Costellos, Jack Frenches, Dick Edwards, Monte Herberts, Gordon Prentices, George Robersons, Margaret and S. P. Manasse, Mrs. Austin McManus . . . and dozens of others . . .

Theodora and Tom Fleming were comfortably settled in their new domicile in time for Easter . . . They have an apartment at the 400 . . . on West Arenas . . .

Easter greetings from Rebyl and G. K. Zain . . . in Coral Gables . . . brings the unwelcome tidings that they will not be returning as they had hoped to do . . .

Lillian McClure and Vicki Malouf were among those attending a luncheon honoring Betty Callan, who will be an April bride . . . The luncheon was given by Mrs. Robert Lawson and Mrs. George Barraclough, at the latter's home . . . Lovebirds in be-ribboned cages and masses of pink camellias decorated the luncheon table . . . Betty, daughter of the Earl Callans, will wed Dr. Ken Morgan on April 7 . . .

Maggie and Co Thornton will host a cocktail-buffet at their home on Camino Norte on April 14 . . . as a kind of farewell party to their friends . . . before leaving for Chicago . . .

June and Jules Howard who own a house at 7 Palomino Road, left Monday for Los Angeles . . . and fly to Honolulu on April 14 . . .

They plan to make their home there and Jules is going into the automatic car wash business . . . The Howards will be accompanied by their son Martin 14, who has been a student at Palm Valley School . . . and their daughter Judy, 10, a Cahuilla School student . . . They will keep their Palm Springs house for the time being . . .

At the Ranch Club this weekend for a one-day visit with their friend Roy Bradley . . . were two around-the-world travelers . . . Gustav Wally, member of the Wallenberg Bank of Sweden family was one of them . . . He started out as a dancer with Mistinguette and later entered the business world. Today he owns a shipping line out of New York and theatres in Sweden . . . His traveling companion is Helmut Larson, the musical comedy star from Copenhagen . . .

Met the delightful and attractive Marguerite Trousdale at the Cameron christening on Sunday . . . and she told me that her two daughters Mary Ann, who attends USC, and Maggie, who is a Marymount student, were here for over Easter . . .

The Harold Clarks (brother of Wilbur Clark of the Las Vegas Desert Inn) and the Earl Kellers and their children . . . were dining at a table adjoining ours at Spur and Sable the other evening . . . and much entranced with Al Anthony's superb combination of piano and organ . . .

The following evening at Deep Well . . . the arrival of our flaming shishkebab attracted the attention of the people at the next table . . . It was MGM's head man Dore Schary with his family . . .

Standing in line for the second showing of "Carousel" . . . and, in front of us and behind us, and all around us . . . were college students . . . Loved that "polishing up the stars" sequence . . . the carousel dance . . . and the Cole Porter songs in this new movie . . .

ONE OF THE LARGEST PARTIES of the season was the Saturday night cocktail-buffet given by the Edwin Fallgrens at their Santa Rosa home. The Fallgrens, on left and right of the picture, are

Guest of Honor at Party Paid Double Tribute

Bill Brereton of Denver was not only guest of honor at a party given Saturday night by Mrs. Marguerite Trousdale at her San Lorenzo Road home, but he was also honored by having a bridge named after him. The "Brereton Bridge" which was dedicated that evening, is a stile over the wall between Mrs. Trousdale's house and that of the Bill Tomberlins next door, where Brereton is visiting.

Cocktails and a sit down dinner were served to around 60 guests, including the Russell Wades, George Barretts, Jack Kenastons, George Camerons, Don Hartmans, C. C. Hutchens.

Also: Mr. and Mrs. Ray Corliss and her parents, the Gordon Bleakleys of Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Gray of Santa Barbara, Mrs. Margaret Bell, and the daughters of the hostess, Mary Ann and Maggie Trousdale, who were home for the Easter holidays.

Hoovers Have Weekend Guests

Easter weekend guests at the Al E. Hoover home included their daughter Jean Smock and granddaughter Sandra Smock, accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Don Peterson, all of Long Beach, and the William Morgans of Ojai.

On Good Friday, Mrs. Hoover's son Arthur Nobbs flew in unexpectedly. He had just returned from an inspection trip of Pan-American's Australasian Division of the Pacific. He will be here until tomorrow, when he flies to New York to attend a board meeting at Pan-American headquarters.

Easter Guests

Easter houseguests of Dr. and Mrs. B. H. Poliak were his brother and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Poliak of Seattle. Also home for the Easter holiday was the Poliak's daughter Roberta who attends Whittier College.

THE BRERETON BRIDGE, a stile over the wall between the Bill Tomberlin house and that of their neighbor, Mrs. Marguerite Trousdale, was dedicated Saturday night at the party given by Mrs. Trousdale and honoring Bill Brereton of Denver. Around 60 guests attended the cocktail party and sitdown dinner for the visitor. (Desert Sun photo)

Easy way to clean under a chest of drawers is to lift out the bottom drawer and insert the nozzle of the vacuum cleaner in the space.

Use cornmeal, working it in with a soft brush, to clean fur collars, cuffs. Brush thoroughly and air in a cool place.

HOLLYWOOD @—The usual way for Hollywood couples to part is, of course, as the best of friends. It's convenient, less wearing and looks better.

But most of the time the routine fools no one. The outward show of amity as they leave a divorce court just doesn't deceive many people.

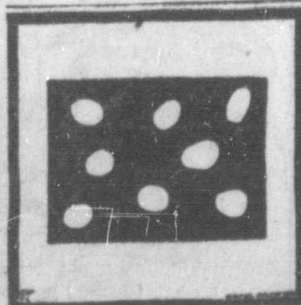

However, there are exceptions, and Ida Lupino and Collier Young constitute such an example. They not only see each other from time to time, but they work together professionally. Their divorce did not keep them from conferences on various productions, and some of their temperament will become part of a future situation comedy format.

Young has been an almost daily visitor on the set of "The Intruder" at Allied Artists where Miss Lupino is starring with Edmund Purdom, Ann Harding and Jacques Bergerac.

The Young-Lupino conferences involve her forthcoming TV series, "Mr. Adams and Eve." She will co-star with her present husband, Howard Duff. Young will produce the series for CBS-TV.

"We're even going to use some incidents from our own home life on the show," he said.

"CARBON COPY OF SLICE OF SWISS CHEESE"

The idea of making carbon copies of swiss cheese comes from Washington where they do everything, including eat their lunch, in triplicate. Down there they make carbon copies of everything, including people, which is why the Government has such a large payroll. Lots of times when they fire someone they make a mistake and fire a copy, and the original person hangs around in the files for a couple more years. But making carbon copies of swiss cheese isn't as dopey as it sounds. Of course, it keeps squishing out of the typewriter and gets mashed up in the keys, but there's one advantage. If you make a mistake you can erase it with a piece of rye bread.

About one third of all big game animals in the United States live on national forest lands.

FACTIONS DOING the most questioning are pictured at the Public Utilities Commission hearings in the Village. Many witnesses were put on the stand to testify to "poor telephone service and exorbitant rates between Palm Springs and Palm Desert." The first day, yesterday, found some 200 persons crowded into the council chambers at the city hall waiting to be heard. Top photo (left to right) Cliff Henderson, Hal Kapp and attorney Harry Cannon of Palm Desert and Los Angeles attorney Clayton Thomas prepare questions for witnesses. These two attorneys are handling the case of the protesters—the Chambers of Commerce of Palm Springs, Palm Desert, Rancho Mirage and Cathedral City. Bottom photo, representatives of the California Water and Telephone company discuss the testimony given by their subscribers as the first meeting broke up yesterday. Left to right are Ed Fisher, district superintendent; attorney Claude Rosenberg; local manager Bill Nash; and district manager and company vice president M. R. MacGougan.

Leonard Named Deputy Sheriff of LA County

DESERT HOT SPRINGS—It's now Deputy Sheriff Ted Leonard Jr.

Ted, who has been behind the bar of Addington's Steak House this season, was notified this week by the Los Angeles County sheriff's department that he has obtained an appointment as a deputy sheriff.

The appointment was obtained after a rigorous physical, mental and character screening.

Before coming to Desert Hot Springs Ted was at Hoberg's, famed Lake County resort. He is a graduate of Seton Hall, New Jersey, and a veteran of two years of Korean War service with the Navy air arm.

Ted is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore J. Leonard of Dos Palms. His father is a DHS business analyst and tax consultant.

Plates Provide Aid in Nabbing Hit-Runners

The new California license plate number system which has been initiated with the 1956 plates enables persons who witness hit-and-run accidents to more readily be of assistance in apprehending hit-and-run drivers, says the Highway Patrol.

"We would like to have the entire number from the license plate and make, color, and year of the car," Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell declared today. "If complete information cannot be obtained, witnesses can help investigating officers considerably if they secure the first three letters of the license plus the make and year model of the car. We suggest you be alert for these factors if you should witness a hit-run accident."

"Whatever information you obtain should be forwarded to the California Highway Patrol as soon as possible," he added. "If the accident occurs in an incorporated city, follow the same procedure but give the information to the local police department."

Last year the Patrol recorded over 2,000 hit-run cases, each of which might have been more readily solved if a witness had accurately recorded the license number of the errant driver's car.

Michigan has more residents than Chili, Cuba or Venezuela, and almost as many as Austria or Sweden.

Village Golf, Tennis, Desert Circus Among Southland's April Features

Golf, tennis and the twentieth annual Desert Circus—all in Palm Springs—are among the highlights in Southern California during the month of April, according to the All-Year Club's monthly events calendar.

Golf is the 21st annual Palm Springs Women's Invitational at O'Donnell Golf Club April 8 to 11, and tennis is the Racquet Club Racquet Cup tennis tournament April 28 and 29.

The Desert Circus this year from April 19 to 22 is the twentieth annual.

Otherwise, Southern California says it with flowers, as the Subtropical Spring season comes into full bloom.

ORANGE TREES are in bloom, desert wildflowers, cherry and peach orchards in the San Geronimo Pass region, and so many private and public gardens are at peak blossoming that nearly every community has a flower show or garden tour scheduled.

Laguna Beach presents its Festival of Flowers April 28 and 29 in the Woman's Clubhouse.

Coronado's Flower Show will be held in the City Library Park April 14 and 15.

San Diego County's Spring Rose Show is scheduled for April 14 and 15 in the Conference Building, Balboa Park.

Escondido's 10th annual Flower Show, sponsored by the Garden Club, will be held in the Central School auditorium April 21 and 22.

Local Spring flowers will be featured in La Mesa's Spring Flower Show April 13 in the La Mesa Woman's Club.

La Jolla's 20th annual Garden Tour will visit five outstanding gardens on the Pacific Ocean shore.

Vista's Flower Show will be held April 28 and 29 in Legion Hall.

Rancho Santa Fe's Garden Club sponsors a Flower Show April 28 and 29.

Claremont's Garden Tour is unique. From April 14 to 22, more than 50 gardens will be open to the public. Visitors are welcome in any garden displaying an orange-colored spade.

Redlands will hold its annual Flower Show at the Santa Fe Arcade on April 21 and 22.

Sierra Madre's Wistaria Festival will continue in April, as the world's largest wistaria vine is in full bloom.

THE FLORAL EMPHASIS in April merely reflects the climate that also encourages other outdoor events.

A Desert Shores Regatta will be held April 8 at Salton Sea, with high-speed inboard motorboats competing in races sponsored by the Southern California Speed Boat Association.

Del Mar's annual Jumping Frog Jubilee will be held April 29 in Bing Crosby Hall at the Exposition Grounds. Winners—frogs, that is—will go to Angels' Camp in May for the International Frog Olympics.

San Diego's annual Yellowtail Derby continues through April. Some $25,000 in prizes will go to lucky anglers fishing from Deep Sea boats putting out from San Diego this summer.

The Coronado Island Handicap Yacht Race will be held April 1. About 30 yachts will race the 36 miles from San Diego to the Coronado Islands and return.

San Diego will conduct its annual Spring Art Show April 28 and 29 in the Spanish Village of Balboa Park. Ceramics, weaving and sculpture will be on display.

ONE OF THE Southland's outstanding events is the Ramona Outdoor Play, which opens the weekend of April 21. Townspeople of Hemet and San Jacinto enact the roles based on Helen Hunt Jackson's famous book, "Ramona," for three weekends, April 21, 22, 23, 29, May 5-6.

Harness racing continues until April 12 at Santa Anita.

The 11th annual Los Angeles Sportsman Vacation, Trailer and Boat Show will be held April 12 to 22 at the Pan-Pacific Auditorium.

Trout fishing season begins at Crowley Lake in the High Sierras April 28.

The first steamer service of the season to Catalina Island begins April 14.

The Mr. and Mrs. U. S. A. contest, featuring outstanding musicians and women, will be held April 14 in the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.

6 Koreans Killed, 9 are Injured by Ammunition

SEOUL (AP)—Shells left over from the Korean war and a bomb which may have been set afloat by the Communists killed six Koreans and injured nine in three accidents last week, national police said today.

A 37-year-old woman was killed when she picked up a wooden box containing a bomb on a beach of Kangwha Island, 30 miles northwest of Seoul.

Four children were killed and six injured when they ignited artillery shells abandoned on a hillside. One farmer was killed and three injured when a buried shell exploded while they were pulling up roots for firewood.

Farm Income Improves Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—The financial position of price-squeezed farmers has improved for the second straight month.

The Agricultural Department reported yesterday farmers received two per cent higher prices between mid-February and mid-March.

Kefauver-Eisenhower Test in Wisconsin Ballot Today

WASHINGTON — Political observers watched the Wisconsin primary today to see how much strength Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) shows against President Eisenhower in that normally Republican state.

The results also will be closely analyzed to determine whether Wisconsin farmers register major discontent with administration farm policies by voting heavily Democratic.

Kefauver has no opposition in the Democratic column, and Mr. Eisenhower has only taken opposition from an Ashland, Wis., editor. The President and Kefauver are pitted in something of a "popularity" contest since the primary is "open" and voters are not required to vote with the party they normally support.

IN THE 1952 presidential primary, 73.3 of those casting ballots in Wisconsin voted Republican and 23.7 Democratic. In the presidential election itself, the contest between Mr. Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson—61 per cent voted Republican and 39 per cent Democratic.

Other political developments: Kefauver, assured of picking up Wisconsin's 28 Democratic national convention delegate votes without contest, headed today for Florida where he will meet Stevenson in a head-on contest in the state's May 29 primary.

In an Orlando, Fla., speech last night Kefauver made two main points: He believes he will be an acceptable candidate to Florida and the entire South despite his view that the Supreme Court's desegregation ruling must be carried out, and he should not be penalized at the Democratic national convention because he is from the South.

MORE THAN 500 Democratic committeemen in Stevenson's home state of Illinois hailed Stevenson at a Springfield rally as the "real workhorse" of the Democratic party.

Stevenson is unopposed in Illinois' April 10 primary, but Kefauver supporters button-holed party leaders at the Springfield rally seeking write-in support for the Tennessee senator. The Kefauver camp admitted it won no significant new support, however.

In a speech to the rally, Stevenson again attacked Kefauver for raising a charge of "bossism" against Stevenson supporters.

"Sen. Kefauver goes to great

Dishwasher Held in Auto Theft

Alvin Carmen Gibson, 32, a dishwasher at a restaurant in Cathedral City, was arrested early this morning in Banning after he was found in a car belonging to Wilson Frankhouser, a bartender at the same cafe.

Frankhouser had called Palm Springs police about 3:15 a.m. to report the car stolen during the night. They notified sheriff's officers, who today are expected to prosecute Gibson on the strength of a complaint to be signed by Frankhouser.

Restaurant Owner Bill Cunney said the suspect has used the car he took last night on other occasions with the owner's permission. He did not have Frankhouser's okay last night, Cunney said.

She will be introduced by Capt. Elise G. Wolley, public relations chairman of the chapter, and member of the State Republican Central Committee of California.

Police Guard Restores Detroit's Flow of Milk

DETROIT — State police, non-strikers and court orders tamed striking dairy farmers today and restored Detroit's flow of milk to about 75 per cent of normal.

But angry pickets in scattered rural areas promised more violence in an attempt to cut off the precious fluid to the nation's fifth largest city and win higher prices for their milk.

The striking Fair Share Bargaining Association (FSBA) was dealt two critical blows when its milk blockade was smashed in two areas. Convoys escorted by police and backed up by hundreds of militant, non-striking farmers rolled into Detroit, easing the situation.

Loaded milk tankers also sped toward the city from Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin, permitting local health authorities to abandon plans for emergency rationing.

4 Robbing Car Here Waken Owner in It

William Wallace Carlton, a merchant seaman, woke up from a nap in the back seat of his car Sunday night to halt four men in the process of removing his wheel and tire. He was parked at Buena Vista and Sunair Way.

Carlton said the sound of the jack raising the rear of his car woke him, and when he leaned out to see what was going on, the four left. They hadn't gotten the wheel off. The jack they were using was Carlton's, taken from the unlocked trunk.

Navy Puts New Guided Missile on Patrol Planes

WASHINGTON — The Navy announced today that it now is equipping some of its patrol planes with a new guided missile which automatically searches out and destroys enemy ships at long ranges.

The announcement came only hours after informed sources disclosed that the Air Force's Snark, a winged pilotless bomber, had recently made a 2000-mile, record making flight over the Caribbean Sea.

The new Navy missile, known as the Petrel, is designed to be launched by patrol planes well out of range of the anti-aircraft batteries of enemy ships.

Fairchild Engine and Airplane Corp., producer of the weapon, recently referred to it as an air to underwater missile. This suggests, although the Navy did not say so, that the Petrel may be used against submarines as well as surface ships.

The Navy said the Petrel fills out the Navy family of missiles for operational fleet use and gives the Navy four missile delivery capabilities. The other three are: The Sparrow, air to air, Regulus, surface to surface, and Terrier, surface to air.

The Petrel attacks at high speed and with devastating effect. The Navy said use of the new missile will spare pilots from anti-aircraft hazards which confronted aviators in World War II when they closed on target.

G-M Chairman Sloan Retires

NEW YORK — Alfred P. Sloan Jr. retired yesterday as chairman of the board of General Motors Corporation which he built into the nation's greatest manufacturing enterprise.

The 50-year-old industrial genius joined General Motors as a vice president in 1918.

Under his guidance GM became the first company in the history of the world last year to make a net profit of more than $1 billion.

Albert Bradley, chairman of the firm's key Financial Policy Committee and a member of its Board of Directors, will succeed Sloan as chairman.

Costa Mesa Police Finish Quiz Here of Suspect in Girl's Knife Slaying

Costa Mesa detectives this morning returned to their headquarters from Palm Springs with a blood-spotted sport coat taken from Jesse Ray Tucker, 22, whom they quizzed here for about two hours after midnight, hoping to solve the murder last Thursday of Oleta Camille Hatcher, 18, in Costa Mesa.

Tucker, presently serving the last of a five-day vagrancy sentence, turned himself in to police here Thursday complaining of pain in his stomach.

No medical treatment was needed at Desert Hospital, and Tucker was booked when bloodstains were found on his coat.

He told officers that he had hitch-hiked from St. Louis, and had stayed overnight in Los Angeles Monday, gone to a town near Bakersfield Tuesday and ridden in a truck here Wednesday, arriving in Palm Springs Thursday morning.

Healy said Tucker could have been in Costa Mesa at the time of the Hatcher murder, but was probably in Missouri in January. The two prime suspects in the slaying have been virtually cleared. The victim's common-law husband, Army Pvt. Harold Johnson, 19, and his buddy, Pvt. Henry Garcia, 19, favorably passed a number of interrogation sessions and examinations.

A tie-in with a similar murder on January 31, of Mrs. Barbara Jean Jepsen, 18, in Van Nuys, has led officers to believe one man stabbed both women. Men who were stationed near Van Nuys at the time of the first murder, then transferred to Costa Mesa, were quizzed and underwent examinations at Fort MacArthur.
